NEWS NOTES.

Three children were burned to death at Currie, Minn.

The second victim of the mosquito test for yellow fever in Cuba is dead.

The Frankfort & Cincinnati railroad has been sold to Eastern capitalists for $350,000.

John Meagher was given bond in $500 for killing "Jady" McNamara at Lexington.

The grand lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, elected O. T. Leatherman grand protector.

There were 27,091 deaths in Kentucky during 1900. Of this number, 4,092 occurred in Louisville.

R. W. Hurt has been appointed postmaster at Gadberry, Adair county, and W. O. Peiley at Edith, same county.

The Bowling Green city board of health has quarantined against "all traveling shows or circuses for 30 days."

The wholesale price of coal at the mines in Southeastern Kentucky and East Tennessee has been boosted 15 cents.

E. E. Snyder has been chosen to succeed L. S. Robertson as superintendent of the Memphis division of the L. & N. railroad.

Three men accused of flooding the West with bank notes printed with stolen plates, were captured at San Francisco.

Mrs. Beckham, the governor's wife, has been critically ill at Frankfort, but is much better. The little daughter is doing well.

The president has refused to pardon J. M. McKnight, the convicted Louisville banker.

Fire destroyed the J. Wright Company plant, of the American Cigar Company, in Richmond, Va., causing a loss of $200,000.

Five more lives were lost as the result of a second explosion of gas in the new Cleveland water works tunnel under Lake Erie.

A census bulletin shows that the United States death rate of 1900 was 10 per cent less than in 1890.

A fast express collided with a freight train on the Chicago & Alton railroad at Prentiss, Ill. Five persons were killed and six injured.

One hundred armed Negroes rescued a Negro prisoner from a constable in Liberty county, Ga. A race war is believed to be imminent.

Henry E. Youtsey has been put to work in the wood planing department of the Frankfort penitentiary. He will hold the job permanently.

Ora Jennings, who was umpiring a ball game at Farmersburg, Ind., was struck over the head by one of the players and fatally injured.

The latest report from the City of Goochland disaster on the Ohio river below Paducah, places the number of dead and missing at over 30.

Everything is quiet at St. Charles, Hopkins county, where a sheriff's posse was fired upon, it is alleged, by union miners. Troops will not be needed.

The explosion of the benzine tank at the Atlantic Refining Company's oil works, in Point Breeze, Pa., caused five deaths. Seventeen men were injured.

For the first time in 20 years there is not a single unpaid individual claim on file in the claim department in Frankfort, and the finances of the State are in fine condition.

The Phoenix Investment Company of Lexington, has written a letter to Attorney General Breckinridge asking for an inspection of their books and methods of business.

The navy department has ruled against Admiral Schley in his request that Admiral Howison, of the Court of Inquiry, be required to explain certain pro-Sampson utterances.

The grand jury to be called at the September term of the Franklin circuit court will continue the investigation of the conspiracy which resulted in the death of Gov. Goebel.

Orlando Pursell shot and killed his father near Sneedville, Tenn. They were watching for dogs that had both their sheep and the night being dark the son mistook his father for a dog.

A mob at Pierce City, Mo., burned a Negro to death in his home and set fire to the cabins of five blacks. The Negroes were driven from town and the citizens declare that none will be allowed to live there in the future.

The public health report just issued by the Marine Hospital Service shows the existence of 5,258 cases of smallpox in the United States against 3,342 at the same time last year. Minnesota had the largest number of cases, 1,152.

While some sections of the country continue to suffer from the drought, the crops in the Middle and South Atlantic and East Gulf States, including East Tennessee, experienced damaging winds as well as injury from overflows.

Manager Robinson, of the St. Bernard Coal Company, at Earlinton, was fined $25 and sentenced to 15 days in jail at Sturgis for unintentionally exposing a revolver in getting into a buggy. The warrant was inspired by union miners, who have long been fighting the company represented by Mr. Robinson.

LANCASTER.

Born, to the wife of Tom Walls, a lovely girl.

On Thursday, Miss Faunie West entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. S. W. Center, of Kingston, Tenn.

Elder A. R. Moore, of the Christian church here, is having a very interesting meeting at Hubble. Large crowds are present and much interest is being shown.

Our colored population have just closed a two weeks camp meeting. They say a large crowd was always in attendance and that a great deal of good was done.

Burraam & Rucker have taken possession of Ward's Mill and now have things running smoothly, being able to furnish their customers with the best flour to be had in the State.

Dr. W. M. Doores, of Crab Orchard, came over Wednesday. He has many friends here and is one of the best physicians to be found anywhere.

He enjoys perfect health and looks as young as he did 10 years ago.

The wet weather continues and our hemp growers are beginning to feel very despondent over the losses caused them by the rotting of their hemp in the field. While it is too late for the rains to do corn any great good, it will cause the late grass to be plentiful and farmers say a good crop of late grass is more than equal to a half corn crop.

Miss Kittie Meter, of Lexington, who has been visiting Mrs. Wm. Moss, has gone to Preachersville to visit Mrs. George King. Miss Marie Joseph has returned from a delightful visit to Miss Lydia Pearl Rose, her cousin, at Shelby City. Miss Mamie Bastin is at home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Crab Orchard. Miss Annie Austin is again at Dripping Springs for her health. Miss Lillie Noel is the guest of relatives in Pineyville. Miss Katherine Sympson is running the millinery establishment during Miss Noel's absence. Miss Margaret Noel, of Joseph's Dry Goods Store, is now taking a much needed rest in the country.

As well known, the Casey rads have a machine that works something like the Sapp machine of Louisville, though of lesser magnitude. A great many honest republicans of the county and especially of the Bethel vicinity are very sore at the way the "clique" has been carrying on and making nominations; many threaten a bolt, but this consternation seems to be playing as much havoc in the ranks of the democracy as in the republican camp. Many rads claim and honestly believe that the clique captured the democratic convention and that a bargain was made and that it was understood that the democrats should only make one nomination. It is well known that the clique referred to has it in for Capt. Rains, or at least is supposed to, while many decent republicans who would otherwise support our candidate, Mr. Jones, for judge, claim that they had rather see him defeated than for the clique to triumph. In fact their slogan is "down with the bosses." It is needless to say that there is not one word of truth in the above, though strange to many honest republicans and democrats believe it and are talking it, much to the injury of clean and honest county politics. The county democratic committee has always been able to attend to its own affairs and has never been of that ilk to make bargains with the enemy. Mr. Jones is not only the legal nominee and choice of the majority of his own party, but has friends by the hundreds in the republican party. The only effective way in doing away with the so-called machine is by electing M. W. Jones judge, as a more competent man for the position could not be found. There is no need of the present rumpus among those who have spent their best years out on the line in the heat of battle, gallantly fighting for the glorious principles of democracy. With a united force our man can win, but scores of republicans who would otherwise support him honestly believe the report that is circulated by our enemies. It is needless to say there is no foundation for such a report and it was only concocted to breed dissension.

Loved James Walker Givens.

CARROLLTON, MISS., Aug. 19.—In a late issue of your paper I noticed the death of J. Walker Givens, and as I promised him last year to write something to be published in the I. J. that my old pupils might hear once more of their old teacher, I take this occasion to comply with my promise and put on record my high regard for my dear old pupil now laid to rest. He always wrote to me or came to see me when in Mississippi. I shall miss his annual presence very much and both myself and family grieve profoundly over his death. He was a man to arouse all the deeper affections of a friend's heart—and he had won my most ardent love.

He was one of the few in whom I had unbounded confidence. May his crown of glory gleam with many stars. "Requiescat in pace."

There are numbers of my old pupils still living in old Lincoln; the Baileys, the Coopers, the Dryes, the Givenses, &c., too numerous to mention. These once my pupils, now heads of families, may know by this that their old teacher still lives at 77 years, though some of his pupils have gone before him to the better land. I wish I could see those who remain and shake their hands once again before I pass over the river to join those who have gone before. May the good Lord bless them all, that if we meet no more on earth we may be an unbroken band in that world where neither sickness nor death comes and where all shall be in an eternal reunion.

MIDDLEBURG.

Jeff T. Short and the writer took in the circle excursion Tuesday to High Bridge, thence down the beautiful Kentucky river, the Hudson of the South, on the steamer Falls City, to Frankfort, thence over the F. & C. railroad to Georgetown and then down to Lexington over the C. S., where we took in the fair. While at Frankfort we hurriedly took in the Capitol building, of icers' buildings, the pen and arsenal.

Frankfort is in a hole and the government buildings are a disgrace to the fair name of old Kentucky. We were at the fair Confederate day when at least 1,000 of the old rebels were present. The fair was turned over to them and the old boys who fought so gallantly for our Southland, with their wives, sons and daughters were largely in the majority. The way the old vets

"done" the Midway was a caution and the old boys seemed to enjoy fun equally as much as the latter day jubilants.

We had the pleasure of meeting Gov.

James B. McCreary, who is also an ex-

Confederate, and who it is decreed shall succeed that miserable misfit, Deboe, at Washington. On Thursday Gen. Joe

Wheeler was the center of attraction and the chief drawing card. He was advertised as "Fighting Joe Wheeler,

Major General Joe Wheeler, the Hero of Heroes and the Nation's Idol."

It is needless to say Fighting Joe Wheeler was a sufficient drawing card for the little hero of two wars. He was most ably presented to the people in an oratorical effort by the silver tongued W.

C. P. Breckinridge. Short and the writer both served under "Fighting Joe" in the Philippines and we were not slow in letting it be known when we pulled his paw.

As is well known, the Casey rads have a machine that works something like the Sapp machine of Louisville, though of lesser magnitude. A great many honest republicans of the county and especially of the Bethel vicinity are very sore at the way the "clique" nations; many threaten a bolt, but this consternation seems to be playing as much havoc in the ranks of the democracy as in the republican camp. Many rads claim and honestly believe that the tion and that a bargain was made and rats should only make one nomination. It is well known that the clique referred to has it in for Capt.

many decent republicans who would otherwise support our candidate, Mr.

rather see him defeated than for the clique to triumph. In fact their slogan is "down with the bosses."

It is needless to say that there is not one word of truth in the above, though strange to

THE United States has paid in pensions to June 30th last $2,763,350,033. The disbursements under Grant's first administration were $116,136,275; Grant's second term, $114,395,357; Hayes', $145,322,489; Garfield's, $237,825,070; Cleveland's first term, $305,636,662; Harrison's, $519,707,726; Cleveland's second term, $557,950,407; McKinley's first term, $560,000,547. These figures are simply staggering, but the worst of them is that a very large part of the almost fabulous sums is drawn by men who have no further claim on the country's bounty than that they were camp followers and coffee coolers. How long, oh Lord, how long are we to suffer such imposition? Echo answers, just so long as the time servers of both political parties bend the pregnant hinges of the knee to the professional pensioners that thrifit to them may follow fawning.

EDITOR LILLARD, of the Danville News, has the sympathy of the press of Kentucky in the loss of his father, Col. Ephriam Lillard, of Lawrenceburg. Col. Lillard was 82 years old and left a wife and seven children. He was one of the most respected citizens of Anderson county and an elegant old Kentucky gentleman.

COL. CRADDOCK, or some other centenarian, says the late protracted dry spell was nothing compared with that of 1762, when no rain fell for 123 days, and grain and hay had to be brought from England. The record of other dry years in the last 200 years make that of 1901 almost hang its head in shame.

A CINCINNATI woman killed herself because she imagined her dog's love for her was waning. It's hard to tell what a woman won't do when she sets her head.

POLITICAL.

Boyle county rads will put out a ticket about Sept. 1.

Adjutant General William Brandon is a candidate for governor of Tennessee.

Senor Don Carlos Morla Vicuna, minister from Chile to the United States, died at Buffalo.

Collector Sapp will give Mr. John A. Stratton the republican nomination for mayor if he will accept it.

Julius Bodenheimer, former chairman of the Indiana State populist committee, died suddenly at his home near Kokomo.

The Iowa democratic convention committee on resolutions has voted against reaffirming the Kansas City platform.

Secretary Gage will visit Canton next week. It is believed he will urge the removal of Collector Sapp at the earliest possible moment.

Pennsylvania republicans in State convention unreservedly endorsed Quay and the last Legislature and adopted a platform in which "yellow journals" were denounced. This is a slap at Wanamaker.

The Iowa democratic convention has nominated Thomas J. Phillips, of Ottumwa, for governor and adopted a platform reaffirming the Kansas City platform, but expressing the conviction that the campaign should be confined to State issues.

Chairman Allie Young decides that the action of the Paris City Committee in declaring the recent primary for city offices void was illegal, and says in substance that the ticket headed by D. C. Parrish is legally nominated, until the contest set up by J. L. McClure and others is decided on its merits. He declares that the call for the primary for August 22 is illegal and calls it off.

Some people never know when they are dead. The Brownies down at Bowling Green nominated a lot of stiffs for county and legislative offices, who will be decently buried for all time at the coming election. The Brownies ought not to forget that an Ohio magistrate recently fined a man $5 for contempt, because he got up and walked while he was holding an inquest over him. If they do, they lay themselves liable to such infliction.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

LAND, STOCK, CROPS, ETC.

W. C. Shanks sold to Will Adams a pony for $30. R. C. Nunnelley sold to Josh Jones a bunch of stock hogs at 50c. FOR SALE—8 nice Southdown bucks. C. C. Carpenter, Hustonville. George T. Wood bought of various parties 160 70-pound lambs at 25c. Cyrus Wilson, of Casey, sold a lot of new corn to Drew Wilkinson at $1.25. Registered Berkshire boar, strictly fine, for sale. R. H. Crow, Shelby City, Ky.

Phil Chrissman, a Harrodsburg gardener, has sold 400 bushels of Irish potatoes at 75c. Smith & Neil bought seven mules in Cumberland county last week at $135.—Adair News.

George Harding and son sold 39 female Shorthorns at $693.09 and four bulls at $301.25. Season money is now due and I will appreciate it if you will settle at once. M. S. Baughman.

Safe family horse, not afraid of cars, bicycles or anything, for sale. R. H. Crow, Shelby City.

Fat cattle are perhaps scarcer in Adair county than they have been for years, says the News.

W. C. Terhune bought 275 mule colts at Carlisle, Cynthiana, Ashbrook and Lawrenceburg, at an average of $27. They were shipped to York, Pa.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

The large stock barn of M. J. Farris, four miles from Danville, on Harrodsburg pike, was struck by lightning Wednesday evening and burned. We were unable to learn the contents and amount of losses.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Ex Gov. Proctor Knott has resigned as head of the Centre College law school.

Gov. Beckham has appointed Chas. Powell a justice of the peace in the first magisterial district of Mercer. He was appointed to succeed O. W. Lester, who moved out of the district.

One soldier was killed and 16 others were injured by the premature explosion of a projectile near Fort Riley, Kas. Private Lansdown, of London, was one of a number to receive serious injuries.

Somerset was visited by what appears now to be an organized gang of housebreakers. Four houses on Mt. Vernon avenue were entered, and money, jewelry, silver plate and clothing stolen to the amount of about $400. A. J. McCarty, J. Crawford and Charles Colyer were among the heaviest losers.

A Lexington dispatch says: The committees representing Richmond and the alumni of Central University met here and agreed on terms by which Richmond is to retain the Central University grounds and buildings. The Richmond people say a good preparatory school will be carried on there, the faculty for which will be chosen in a few days.

Mrs. Nannie Embry Elkin, of Louisville, died in Knoxville, Tenn., Tuesday morning at the house of her daughter, Mrs. Wiley L. Morgan. She leaves three children in Louisville—Miss Lela Elkin, Messrs. Zack and J. Embry Elkin. Mrs. Dr. S. B. Mills is her sister. Mrs. Morgan is managing editor of the Knoxville Sentinel. Deceased was in her 57th year and was the wife of the late Garrett Elkin and until recently had made her home with her son, Mr. Zack Elkin, in Louisville. The remains were taken to Richmond and interred in cemetery there Thursday morning.

DECLARED INSANE.—Jack Eckler, who lives on Lutes & Co.'s farm near Milledgeville, was declared insane by a jury in Judge Bailey's court Tuesday and Wednesday morning he was taken to Lakeland Asylum by Sheriff S. M. Owens. He grew very wild at times and made it noisy around the jail the short while he was confined in it. A year ago Eckler had typhoid fever and it is believed that that disease caused the mental trouble. *

SAME NAME AND COUSINS.—Tuesday a jewelry drummer called on William Hamilton, the jeweler, and introduced himself as William Hamilton. "That's my name," said our William Hamilton and then the two began to talk about the little coincidence. They found out that their fathers were brothers and that they were of the same age. They had never seen each other before, but each knew of the other's existence. The two soon grew to be very fast friends and our William Hamilton is pleased that that disease caused the mental trouble. *

THE BRODHEAD FAIR.—The Sixth Annual Exhibition of the Brodhead fair began Wednesday, with the largest first day's attendance in its history. Stock is on hand from a half dozen counties and it is of a very high grade. The rings are all warmly contested, while the races are very interesting. The officers and directors and Rockcastle county people generally are doing all in their power to make the fair a success and we are glad to state that they are succeeding most admirably. The hotels are doing a flourishing business and are taking care of the crowds in a manner satisfactory to all. Stores are closed up most all of the day and merchants and other business men of Brodhead are vying with each other in making the visitors feel that it is good to be with them. Col. Jordan Peter Chandler is ring master as usual, and makes a good one. The music furnished by the Southern military band of Crab Orchard, is the subject of much favorable comment. Following are a few of the awards of Wednesday:

White corn, J. S. Duke; yellow corn, George Hiatt; wheat, W. J. Chestnut; oats, George Moore; rye, Fred Hahn; beans, Cash Hiatt; Irish potatoes, Wm. Haggard; onions, J. Mullins; turnips, Mrs. Josie Tyree; tomatoes, Alex Tyree; cabbage, J. M. Bloomer; apples, Mack Tyree; peaches, L. L. Jarrett; pears, B. A. Riddle; watermelons, A. C. McClary; muskmelon, J. B. Livesay; cantaloupe, J. B. Livesay; pumpkin, Wm. King; cured tobacco, M. E. Tyree; broom corn, Winn Adams; sugar cane, Wm. Haggard; millet, Walter Boyd; timothy, J. B. Livesay; clover, J. B. Livesay; black cake, Mrs. J. H. Albright; tea cake, Mrs. J. H. Albright; soda biscuits, Mrs. J. H. Albright; light bread, Lena Napier; honey, J. M. Crawford; sorghum, George Hiatt; butter, Mrs. Josh Duen; peach preserves, Mrs. Mack Tyree; pear preserves, Mrs. J. H. Albright; display of preserves, Mrs. J. H. Albright; grape jelly, Mrs. J. M. Crawford; blackberry wine, Mrs. Jerry Frith; cucumber pickles, Mrs. Jerry Frith; sun bonnett, Mollie Hiatt; cut flowers, Mary Roberts; oil painting, Mollie Hiatt; chair tidy, Mrs. J. B. Livesay; couch pillow, Miss Helen Thurmond. The farmers' running race had five entries and was won by Oscar Spoonamore. Egbert Wallin was second. Scott Farris won the pony race with Oscar Spoonamore second. Tom Minks owned the mule that won and Morris Farris the one that came second in the mule race. Mack Hughes, of Danville, took the trotting race with the fast horse, Musketoona. J. H. King, with Ante Carlo, got second money and Thomas Napier third. The boys' shoe race was won by Charley Lawrence.

The crowd yesterday was about the average for the second day while the show of stock was perhaps better. Space forbids us giving the awards in full, but here are some of them: Pair large breed chickens, E. A. Albright; pair geese, H. C. Jones; bull, Harrison Brannaman; sow J. M. Craig; pigs under six months, J. M. Craig; mare mule colt, J. M. Crawford; horse mule colt, J. B. Livesay, who also won on two-year-old mule; yearling mule, Burg Farris; pair mules, T. B. Lair; mare or gelding, J. E. Farris, Stanford, Tom Napier, second. The pacing race was won by C. C. McClure, with John Roberts second. Tom Napier took the running race, Scott Farris second, and Tom Minks the mule race with Morris Farris second. R. H. Bronough's entry in the running race fell both heats.

The I. J. man acknowledges thanks for courtesies received at the hands of President Cherry and Secretary Tate.

THE climax in beauty of person and speech will be reached at the Garrard Opera House, Lancaster, Sept. 5, 8 P.M., when 10 of the most gifted young ladies in Central Kentucky will engage in an elocutionary contest. A handsome diamond ring and a gold watch will be awarded to the first and second best. Miss Polly Taylor will represent Stanford and Miss Sara Wood Lynn Millersburg Female College. These young ladies will act well their part and do justice to the high standard of culture enjoyed by our people. Admission only 50 cents, with the privilege to reserve seats without extra cost. *

FIRE.—Wednesday night about 11:45 o'clock, the grocery store of Mr. J. B. Higgins, near the depot, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was turned on and the fire department responded very promptly and succeeded in saving most of the building, but the stock of goods is nearly a complete loss. Mr. Higgins, who was sleeping in the building, does not know whether the fire was caused by a lamp exploding, or mice gnawing matches, but is of the opinion the latter was the cause. The loss on stock will amount to about $500, with only $300 insurance. The building, the property of Mr. P. P. Nunnelley, was partially covered by insurance.

LATER.—The insurance on the stock of goods was satisfactorily adjusted and money paid yesterday in less than 12 hours after the fire by a company represented by Mr. R. B. Mahony. *

be Senator from Kentucky, the grandest State in the Union. Let's help him for his past services to the party, which he loves so well, realize that ambition by electing Hon. G. T. Farris, of the 18th senatorial district, and Hon. M. F. North, of Lincoln, as Senator and Representative, respectively.

McKINNEY.

Misses Mollie and Eva Vaught are on the sick list, but not confined to their beds.

Thieves broke into a box car on the side track here and stole 100 pounds of meat and a quantity of lard a few nights ago.

The Baptist church here called Rev. Eugene Sallee, of Texas, as pastor, who will begin his pastorate the 1st Sunday in September and will preach twice a month.

Mary, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alford, died of scarlatina, or some kindred disease, at her home near here Sunday morning and was buried here Monday.

G. E. Jones is improving his property on Hustonville street and has it contracted to a Casey county gentleman, who will occupy it as a manufacturing establishment, should he be able to secure residence here. We hope for his success.

Mr. Pryor Adams, son in-law of our neighbor, David Smith, of South Fork, died of typhoid fever at his home in Lexington. He was brought here and buried in the McKinney Cemetery. Mr. Adams was a Christian gentleman, which is the highest compliment paid to any man. He has left a good wife and four little children, besides numerous friends to mourn his early death.

Mrs. Sarah Dayton and two sons are down with intermittent and typhoid fever. The mother and John are convalescent, while Will is just entering on his second week of confinement to his bed. The boys have typhoid. The friends of Taylor Durham will regret to learn that he is dangerously ill—if not dead—of typhoid fever, at his new home in Wayne county. Mr. Durham moved from Middleburg a few months ago and located, temporarily, near Monticello.

As a gallant soldier, as State legislator and governor he won distinguished honors, but his untiring energies and services in Congress, which the whole country was prompt to recognize, brought him national and international fame.

James B. McCreary is a man whom the people trust, and have trusted, for nearly 30 years, and is yet mentally and physically in the prime of life. Believing that a party can by organization and discipline make effective the principles which it espouses, he has been from boyhood a strict partisan—in essentials, orthodox; in non-essentials, liberal. He is a democrat who has served all the people—day in and day out—with loyal devotion to principle. He has supported the straight democratic ticket and platforms, State and national, from first to last, since the day he cast his first ballot, and he has stumped the State for the cause he loves in many campaigns. He has done more to advance the interests of the democratic party in Kentucky than any other dozen public men put together.

In the campaign of 1900, long knowing his genius for organizing and executive ability, he was called to the democrats to the front to assume the hard and exacting duties of the State democratic campaign committee for Bryan and Beckham. Leaving home and business, he removed to Louisville, and for three months, co-operating with democrats all over the State, he labored continuously; the glorious result achieved last November, against political enemies and against a hundred thousand dollars poured into the State to lure old Kentucky away from her democratic moorings, shows how wisely he worked—and how well.

Where were his distinguished opponents, excepting one, who are now opposing him for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator from Kentucky when that armed mob of desperadoes from the mountains of Eastern Kentucky were terrorizing our State capital, and who finally assassinated our beloved governor, Wm. Goebel? We can answer the question easily: they were in Washington telegraphing back to friends at Frankfort, "If you need our services, wire us, Chas. Wheeler and D. H. Smith." Where was grand, glorious, brave old McCreary? He was in the thickest of the battle, lending aid and counsel to his fellow-democrats, insisting on them to be brave and fearless, and loyal to the laws of Kentucky, and not to let any stain be put upon the pages of Kentucky's history by democrats, but let law and order prevail.

If the democrats of Kentucky have left in their veins one drop of gratitude they will see it to that this grand, glorious and noble old democrat, who fought democratic battles in the '60's, when his opponents were not even old enough to cast their vote, is elected by the next General Assembly to the highest office within the gift of the people—United States Senator. It is, we believe, the ambition of his life to
